UNSW - Zero Carbon World

13 October. 6.30pm

The age of zero carbon is coming, but the question remains: will it be fast enough to mitigate the worst impacts of the climate crisis? While politics in Australia is still struggling to accept this much needed energy shift, there is cause for hope when we look to our fast-moving industry leaders, researchers and innovators.

The pace at which things are changing is genuinely jaw-dropping. There is the plummeting cost of solar power, which has happened decades ahead of previous estimates; a similar trajectory now forecast in the wind power and battery storage fields; and the view of hydrogen on the horizon. And in all these things, investors are voting with their money. But is the hype getting ahead of the science and technology? What are the big-ticket items that could hasten a zero carbon future? What are the risks and rewards of this new age?

Doctor of Medicine Applicants Western Sydney University

Applications for the 2022 intake will open 1 August 2021 and close Midnight AEST 30 September 2021. Late applications will not be accepted.

The purpose of our admissions process is to identify students who will learn and thrive in the environments in which we teach and from which our medical students build their careers.

Medicine is a physically and mentally challenging profession where practitioners are often required to put the interest of their patients over their own.

The Joint Program in Medicine is a five-year undergraduate degree which aims to help candidates develop necessary skills for practice of medicine.

Southern Cross University Transition to Uni

January 2022. Course duration is six weeks.

Remove uncertainty and make the Transition to Uni easier

Southern Cross University is offering recent High School leavers the opportunity to guarantee their place at university in 2022. We are living through uncertain times and that unpredictability is felt acutely by students who have recently completed their Year 12 studies.

But there is a clear path available. Southern Cross University is offering recent High School leavers an opportunity to guarantee a place at university.

Transition to Uni is a free, intensive preparatory course designed for school leavers who have completed Year 12 with an ATAR (or equivalent). Once you complete, you are on your way to university.

The full-time intensive program is a six-week course. Each week involves 10 hours of class and up to 30 hours for independent study and assessment preparation. The course develops the key academic literacies and the foundational scientific and quantitative concepts you will need at university. You can proceed to a degree with the confidence you are ready to succeed in your university studies.

Passing the Transition to Uni program will guarantee you entry into all Southern Cross University undergraduate degrees* in 2022.

*excluding Midwifery. Please note some degrees have additional admission requirements such as an interview or audition.

University of Sydney - ARTiculate Geography with Political Economy

Geographies of capitalism: Putting the economy in its place

1 September. 5pm

From the food we eat to the mobile phones we use to connect with our friends, our lives are linked to the global economy. This talk will focus on the everyday life of the economy, exploring how everything places us within a global web of economic relationships while introducing an 'economic geography' perspective. Students will be encouraged to think critically about the themes such as globalisation, inequality, technology, work and climate change while reflecting on their own experiences as consumers.

Participants will have an opportunity to ask questions during Q&A

Sydney Actors School Applications now open for 2022

Applications to Sydney Actors School are now open for the January 2022 intake. Australia's premiere acting school has a clear vision; the school is about providing the most personalised, hands-on practical training in acting in the world. Sydney Actors School employs industry professionals with real credits. Many institutions will offer "industry professionals" as lecturers, however they have not worked at significant levels in the international film and TV industry. Our lecturers have had major impact in their chosen fields e.g. Philip Quast, Kevin Jackson and Julia Cotton. This is why many of lecturers' are also the chairs and presidents of the guilds for their industry bodies. We are very selective across all disciplines. Entry to our accredited programs is by a strict audition and interview process. Our goal is not to fill seats with students and promise the world – we are serious about assisting students to launch their acting careers. This is why we have very limited enrolments and a thorough audition and interview process to gain enrolment into our acting courses

The Interview Questions and How to Nail the Job Interview

Job interviews can be damn intimidating. You spend ages psyching yourself up to even apply for the thing and then you get the call offering you an interview, go you!

Full disclosure; the first time I had a job interview (it was for a Brumby's bakery you guys) was also the first time I discovered my body is capable of producing sweat from many new places, including, (but not limited to); the front of https://www.fya.org.au/2015/10/27/how-to-nail-the-job-interview/?gclid=EAIaIQobChMIIsPCJy8u36wIVx3wrCh2FBQD1EAAAYASAAEgLFsvD_BwE

Police Force - University Certificate in Workforce Essentials

If you are considering a policing career with the NSW Police Force, one of the first steps will be completing a foundation level program called the University Certificate in Workforce Essentials (UCWE). The UCWE replaces the previous minimum academic requirement and is a mandatory requirement for all future NSW Police Force applicants.

Successful students will be awarded a University Certificate which contributes to the NSW Police Force recruitment selection ranking score. Read more about ranking scores.

NSW Police Application Process

Once you have successfully completed the University Certificate in Workforce Essentials (UCWE) you may be eligible to submit an application to the NSW Police Force. Once received, your police application will be allocated to a Recruitment case officer who will get to work processing your application.

Read more

1. Background Checks

Upon receipt of your police application your recruitment case officer will conduct a number of background checks including detailed background vetting, employment checks and a more thorough investigation of your history.

Read more

2. Physical & Medical Assessment

As a police recruit applicant you will be required to undertake a number of physical tests to determine your ability to perform the physical demands inherent to operational policing. You will also be invited to attend a full medical assessment including a complete medical history. The assessment will be conducted by an external provider and will assess your medical fitness to perform the inherent role and functions of an operational police officer.

Read more

3. Interview

The final stage of the recruitment process is a formal face to face interview. The interview will be conducted by a three (3) member panel and will provide an opportunity for the NSW Police Force to assess you against a number of core qualities. The interviews will be conducted at a number of metropolitan and regional locations.

Things to do in a Gap Year. What to consider

Taking a gap year is an opportunity for you to gain independence, have adventures, and learn practical skills. And there are many things to do in a gap year that'll also look great on your resume.

Planning your gap year carefully will allow you to get the most out of your time. Creating a structured gap year plan means you'll have the time to tackle the big questions in life while you gain practical experience, and get to try out different career options in a real-world context. You might even discover a new passion, or confirm that the path you were considering is the right one for you. Make the most of your gap year by choosing a volunteer or internship program that fits your interests and goals. And rest assured by choosing from the best gap year programs that offer a safe and meaningful travel abroad experience.

Get into Surveying

In order to let students know more about the surveying profession, it helps to have resources at hand.

We have put together a range of material that will help communicate what surveying is, as well as the need for more surveyors entering the industry. Surveying is an exciting field of study that will greatly appeal to any students you know who love subjects like maths, geography and IT – and anyone who likes the idea of working outdoors a lot of the time. If these resources help you reach those students, then that is a great success.
